SCARCITY OF MONEY.

Almost a Panic on the New York Stock Exchange.

TWO HOURS OF EXCITEMENT.

Only Prompt Action on the Part of the Bank of France Can Avert a Panic in London, the Reverberation of Which Will Be Felt All Over the World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The dark clouds which have been hanging over Wall street for the last six months almost reached a climax of blackness yesterday morning. The Stock Exchange was on the verge of a panic during the first two hours. Money was almost unobtainable and failures were imminent.

London prices for American securities cabled over here showed declines of from 1 to 2 per cent. below the closing prices of Saturday. Money rates were high in London, and an uncomfortable feeling of security was reported. When the market opened here there was a rush to sell stocks at any price.

In the first ten minutes prices of active stocks had declined from 1½ to 3 per cent. The excitement on the exchange was tremendous. It seemed almost impossible to find buyers, so great has public confidence been shaken by recent developments here and in Europe. The banks and trust companies, sharing in the general fright, began to call in loans, and within half an hour the Stock Exchange was bare of money. The street was full of brokers rushing out to obtain loans to make good their margins which were vanishing at a terrible rate.

A few slight rallies occurred during the morning due to buying by the bears, who are reaping rich harvests at the expense of the street in general.

Shortly before 12 o'clock the death of James Struthers occurred and cast an added gloom over the Stock Exchange. Business was suspended for half an hour, and the brokers had time to take a breathing spell and count up their losses.

At about 1 o'clock money lenders began to appear in the loan crowd on the Stock Exchange. They offered the money which they had been holding back for better rates and found many eager takers.

Rates quickly ran up to 25 and 50 per cent and then to ½ per cent and interest, which is equivalent to about 80 per cent per year. At about the same time there came a sharp rally in the stock market and prices began to advance again. Among the extreme declines of the day was that of Manhattan, 8 per cent; and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, 6 per cent.

The impression seems to be gaining ground that only prompt action on the part of the Bank of France can avert a panic in London, the reverberations of which will be felt all over the world.

The situation in London is becoming painfully strained. South America, South Africa and Egypt, in all of which England's moneyed interests are very large, are calling on the Bank of England for more gold, and the bank cannot respond.

It is thought probable that the directors of the bank must soon advance the rate to an even higher figure than 6 per cent.

The Bank of France has a stock of nearly £50,000,000 of gold. The bank's directors are proverbially miserly. On Saturday they advanced the premium on gold coins.

THE PANIC OF 1873.

Last Chapter of the Historical Failure of Jay Cooke & Company.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The trustee of the estate of Jay Cook & Company, announces the payment of the final dividend upon claims presented before Monday next. The final dividend will be 1½ per cent. in cash on $6,451,000, and eight and one-half shares of Northern Pacific preferred stock, three and one-half shares of Oregon Steamship and Navigation company stock, and three-fourths of a share of preferred stock of the St. Paul and Duluth railroad to each $1,000 of claim to creditors holding that amount and upwards. With the payment of this dividend the affairs of Jay Cooke & Company will be wound up and the total amount of cash paid on it will have been 15¼ per cent. of $6,451,000.

The liabilities when the firm failed in 1873 were nearly $11,000,000, but this amount has been reduced by litigation, compromises and various forms of redemption to the figure named, less than 60 per cent. There were 820 creditors when the firm failed. There has been no dividend since 1881, when the fourth one was distributed. The fifth and final dividend brings the last chapter of this historical and honorable failure to a close. During the process of winding up the intricate affairs of the estate the Jay Cooke interest has acquired about one-half the outstanding claims through redemption and purchase. In the distribution of bonds and stocks to the creditors the amount in the aggregate realized has more than exceeded the extent of the claims.

A Sad Event.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The funeral of the late Gen. David B. McKibben will take place this afternoon at 1 o'clock from St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. Payne officiating. It will be conducted by the Loyal Legion, of which Gen. McKibben was an active member. The interment, which will be at Arlington, will be attended with military honors.

A Strike Settled.

READING, Pa., Nov. 11.—The strike in the Pottsville Iron and Steel Company's rolling mill at West Hamburg has been settled. The strike started because the superintendent found fault with an imperfect billet of iron and refused to pay for its production. The mill will resume operations at once.

POLES GOING TO BRAZIL.

WARSAW, Nov. 11.—For some time past large bodies of Polish emigrants have left Russia bound for Brazil, where it is their intention to found colonies. The government does not look with favor upon this wholesale migration of the Poles, and in many cases large numbers of the emigrants leave the country surreptitiously, crossing the frontier without securing from the authorities the necessary permission in the shape of passports. Much concern is felt regarding the experiences of these emigrants in leaving Russia and their success after reaching Brazil, where the conditions of life are so dissimilar from those to which the Poles have been accustomed.

The Warsaw Courier in order to be able to furnish a full and authentic account of the experiences of these emigrants has engaged M. Dymasinski, the eminent novelist and essayist, to join a party of them without disclosing his identity, and he will accompany them to Brazil. He will embody the experience of the party in a series of article which will be published by The Courier.

Discoveries of Frauds.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A dispatch from Hamburg says five police have made extraordinary discoveries in regard to the frauds practiced on the emigrants shipped from that port to Brazil. Many of the emigrants supposed that their destination was North America. Others, who knew they were going to Brazil, had been told that the pope of Rome would provide them with lands and houses. The guilty agents are being rigidly prosecuted.

An Archduke in Danger.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Archduke Otto of Austria is said to be in a serious condition from the wound recently inflicted on him by a wild boar. The archduke was hunting in Hungary when a gigantic boar attacked him and tore the muscles of his left foot. The life of the prince was saved by a gamekeeper at the risk of his own. Blood poisoning is apprehended.

Labor Riot.

HAMBURG, Nov. 11.—A serious conflict occurred yesterday at Ottensen, a suburb of this city, between striking glass blowers and 300 Polish "blacklegs" who had been employed to take the places of the union men. Revolvers were used as well as stones and clubs. One man was killed and many were injured. A number of arrests have been made.

Favors the Old Law.

ATHENS, Nov. 11.—The king yesterday opened the chamber of deputies in person. His majesty, in his speech opening the session, said that the members of the cabinet were convinced of the wisdom of going back to the electoral system based on the old laws, and added that the ministry would make every effort to meet every state engagement.

Ill-Feeling in Australia.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Much ill-feeling exists in Australia concerning the policy of the British authorities in New Guinea in repulsing would-be settlers and preserving the land for the natives, while in German New Guinea every facility is extended for colonization.

Slight Shock of Earthquake.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A slight shock of earthquake was experienced at Monmouth on Saturday. The rumbling lasted for nine seconds.

FREIGHT TRAINS ROBBED.

Valuable Packages Taken and the Robbers Escaped.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 11.—Two freight trains on the Georgia railroad, one leaving Atlanta for Augusta at 1:30, and the other leaving Augusta for Atlanta at the same hour, were robbed last night. The Southern Express company takes no way packages, it being a through run and the messengers sleep on cots in the express car. The train leaving Augusta was robbed of about $40.

Messenger Ficklen, who reached here this morning is a heavy loser, as a telegram from Atlanta says his packages amounted to $12,000. Ficklen says he must have been robbed between Conyers, which is about thirty miles from Atlanta, and Oconee bridge, about eighty miles from Atlanta. Both robberies were evidently the work of the same man, who probably knew the run of the road. The trains were not stopped, the robber mounting them at a station quietly and doing his work and getting off at the next station. Messenger Smith, on the up train, loses about $100.

Sailors Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The whaler Charles W. Morgan, which left Saturday from Okhotsk, reports the loss of six of her crew. The men left the vessel in a small boat Sept. 1 in pursuit of a whale which they succeeded in harpooning. The whale started off at a rapid rate, towing the boat, which contained the second mate and five seamen. Fog set in and they were soon lost. A search was made for them but they were never found, and it is believed the whale smashed the boat killing the occupants. The whaler Norwhal, from Fox Island, reports six men washed overboard during a gale, but two of the men were fortunately thrown back alive by a returning wave.

Big Railroad Meeting.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 11.—Part of the grievance committee of the order of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors arrived in Pittsburg last night. The object of their visit could not be learned, but it is thought to be for the purpose of fixing a scale of wages for railway conductors. It is thought all railway orders will be represented at the meeting, which will be in session for ten days or two weeks. What the difference committee intend doing could not be learned last night.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Secretary Rusk Talks About Exporting Cattle.

BRITISH DISCRIMINATION.

The Secretary Will Prove to the British Government That Pleuro-Pneumonia Does Not Exist in This Country—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The attention of Secretary Rusk has been called to the report cabled to this country, in which Mr. Chaplin, the British minister of agriculture, is represented as opposing the removal of the restrictions of the British government against live cattle from the United States, and expressing regrets at being compelled to restrict importations from friendly countries like Holland and Germany, while in the case of the United States he did not even feign regret.

The secretary had read the report and was apparently not uneasy relative to it. He said that Mr. Chaplin was taking the side of those whose interests led them to oppose the free introduction of American store cattle to their own country, and that he seemed to forget that this country had abundant evidence that there exists among the purchasers of store cattle in England and Scotland a widespread feeling in favor of unrestricted importation of cattle from this country, provided this can be allowed with perfect safety to British cattle.

The secretary referred to resolutions adopted at a recent session of the agricultural council, which, while deprecating the present withdrawal of the restrictions upon American cattle, declared at the same time that restrictions of this nature ought not to be removed in favor of the cattle of any country where pleuro-pneumonia has been shown to exist until at least six months had elapsed since an official declaration had been made of the immunity of that country from this disease. The secretary construes this resolution to mean that it is simply a question of time when the British government will feel obliged to remove restrictions from any country which can show conclusively that the disease has been eradicated.

"In the application of any such rules" said the secretary, "it is not likely that the British ministry will undertake to discriminate against us, and just as soon as sufficient time has, in my opinion, elapsed since the last case of pleuro-pneumonia occurred in this country, I shall make an official declaration of its complete eradication, and shall strive to satisfy the British government that the disease does not exist here. If this does not secure the withdrawal of these restrictions, England will at least have to abandon the charge of unhealthfulness of our cattle as the cause. There are buyers as well as sellers abroad, and they will probably see to it that their interests also receive some attention."

The secretary continued: "I notice in the report referred to that Mr. Chaplin is made to say: 'The information of the board of agriculture is that, in spite of all the efforts made in America to extirpate pleuro-pneumonia, that disease still exists there.' With that statement I must take positive issue. I unhesitatingly challenge Mr. Chaplin to point out a single case of pleuro-pneumonia now existing among American cattle. Of course, I cannot tell what is his source of information, but whatever it is he is grievously mislead. No doubt it is very difficult for an Englishman like Mr. Chaplin to imagine that what they have found it impossible to do within the narrow limits of their little island this country has been able to accomplish throughout its vast territory, and I suppose we must be a little patient on that account. They have, as you know, suffered grievous losses over there from pleuro-pneumonia, which, in spite of all their efforts, prevails still more or less at all times in some parts of the United Kingdom. The trouble with them has been that they have not gone the right way to work to get rid of it. One thing is certain, and that is that it is now over six months since any allegations have been made by the British officers of the discovery of a case of pleuro-pneumonia among cattle from the United States landed in Great Britain."

Only a Rumor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The published statement that ex-Congressman Evans, of Tennessee, will succeed Secretary Tracy as secretary of the navy, upon the latter's transfer to the bench of the supreme court of the United States, is discredited in naval circles here. In the first place it is pointed out that Mr. Tracy shows no signs of vacating his present position as secretary of the navy. In fact, he is now more thoroughly interested in the work of the navy department than ever before. Close friends of Secretary Tracy say it is generally conceded that Justice Miller's successor will come from the west. It is said however, that before the close of the present administration there will be another vacancy to fill in the supreme court, to which Secretary Tracy may be appointed. Secretary Tracy is now in New York.

Stuck on Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A number of Democratic congressmen, who will not be members of the Fifty-second Congress, have announced themselves as candidates for offices at the disposition of the house. Congressman Frank Lawler, the defeated Democratic candidate for sheriff of Cook county, Ill., will be a candidate for sergeant-at-arms of the house. Congressman John Quinn, of New York, is being pushed for the house clerkship. Other congressman have hesitated to announce their candidacy.

Away Ahead of Time.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Lieut. R. E. Thompson, U. S. A., has been ordered to Chicago as a member of the board of control and management of the government exhibit, world's Columbian exhibition.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR

DENVER, Col., Nov. 11.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor met here yesterday afternoon. Most of the delegates are already in the city but others are expected. Prominent knights from all over the country and Canada are present, among them being Mr. Powderly, A. W. Wright, of Canada, and Morris Wheat, of Ohio.

Mr. Powderly addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Coliseum last night on "The Labor Situation of the Day." The assembly will be in session for about two weeks, and will, among other things, elect officers for the next two years. All sessions will be held with closed doors.

Base Ball Deal.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 11.—When Director Henry B. Rea takes the floor at the Players' League meeting to-day he will ask the Players' National League either to purchase the franchise of the Pittsburg Players' League club or allow it to withdraw from that organization. This will mean a complete capitulation of the Pittsburg Players' League club to the National League. The Players' League meeting will likely be a stormy one as New York's action has aroused intense indignation among those prone to stand by their colors.

Successful Horse Show.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The sixth annual horse show opened in Madison Square garden this morning. There was a good attendance and everything was on a much grander scale than ever before. The entries for the show number 1,100 and include every kind and class of horses. Over $150,000 worth of tickets have been disposed of by the management, which insures a big attendance every day. One hundred and twenty premiums, amounting in the aggregate to $30,000, will be distributed.

Found in a Well.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Catherine Farlin, an elderly lady aged 63 years, who resided with her family at 209 Rahway avenue, was missed from the house yesterday. A search was instituted and her dead body, clothed only in a night dress, was found at the bottom of a well in the yard. Mrs. Farlin has been acting strangely for some time and it is believed she threw herself down the well while suffering from a temporary aberration of mind. An inquest will be held.

An Insurance Company's Loss.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 11.—The steam barge Bruno, and her consort, Louisa, a three-masted schooner, both of which are owned by Capt. Magann, of Toronto, are ashore upon Magnetic reef, between Cockburn and Manitou islands, and are total wrecks. The vessels, which were loaded with coal for Toronto, were driven ashore in a heavy gale and snow storm. They have been abandoned to the insurance companies.

James M. Johnson Dead.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—James M. Johnson, aged 78, died at Elsmere Sunday night of rheumatism of the heart. For about fifty-seven years he has been in business in this city as lumber dealer and box manufacturer. He failed a year ago, and has since been in the insurance business. In 1844 he, with others, withdrew from the Second Presbyterian and organized the Central Presbyterian church in this city.

Not Going to Resign.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A special to The Tribune from Springfield, Ill., says that Minister Lincoln, in an interview, referred to the report that he was to resign his post as minister to England with evident annoyance. He emphatically denied the report and said he was simply in this country on leave and would return to his post at the end of two months and resume his duties.

Bookkeeper Arrested.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.—Obediah George George Deaver, for six years an exemplary bookkeeper in the Franklin National bank, was arrested last night charged with the embezzlement of over $4,000 of the bank's funds. False entries were discovered in Deaver's books, and the Guarantee Company of North America, who furnished $5,000 bonds for Deaver, caused his arrest.

Suing a Railroad Company.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 11.—The Union Railroad company has been served with a writ, in a suit to recover $20,000 for injuries sustained by R. H. Vail while a passenger on the Ocean street "bloomer" car, which collided with a flat car laden with flagstones, in September last. William H. Sanford, of Milwaukee, who was also injured, is suing for $25,000.

Killed By His Room Mate.

LA SALLE, Ill., Nov. 11.—Martin Ryan was stabbed to death last night by his room mate, Edward Cannon, in a drunken quarrel. Ryan had twenty-six wounds on his body in the regions of the neck and heart. Both men are coal miners. The murderer was uninjured and on completing his job surrendered to a policeman.

Killed in an Elevator.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Alexander Hexter, senior member of the well known clothing firm of Hexter Brothers, 434 Market street, was caught between an elevator and the floor in the store yesterday afternoon, and his head was nearly severed from his body. He lived but a few moments after the accident.

A Tug Going to Pieces.

ST. IGNACE, Mich., Nov. 11.—The tug Morley is reported ashore at Nadlanway and is fast going to pieces. She is owned by P. Brennen [illegible].

THE NEXT SENATOR FROM OHIO.

A Table Showing the Pivotal Point in the Legislature to Be Elected Next Fall Which Will Choose a Successor to Senator Sherman. Other Buckeye Information.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Inasmuch as the legislature to be elected next fall will choose a senator to succeed Mr. Sherman, a good deal of interest is being manifested as to the probabilities of 1891 on the legislature, judging from the result in the senatorial districts and counties of last Tuesday's election.

These probabilities are as follows, assuming that each senatorial district and each county divides politically a year hence as it did at the recent election:

These figures are indicative of the pivotal point in the state as to the legislature. Which ever party carries Hamilton county may consider itself sure of the legislature.

Going Republican, the senate would stand sixteen Democrats to twenty Republicans. Going Democratic, the senate would stand nineteen Democrats and seventeen Republicans.

So, also, Hamilton county sending a Republican delegation to the house, would make it stand Democratic, forty-nine, Republican, sixty-two. Sending a Democratic delegation it would stand Democrats, fifty-nine; Republicans, fifty-two.

These figures will prove an interesting study if they serve no other purpose.

Epidemic of Hog Cholera.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Alarming statment comes from a farmer that hogs throughout Ohio were dying with cholera, and many of them being dressed and put on the market as fresh pork. A Columbus butcher states he had refused to handle fresh pork until the disease had disappeared. At the state board of agriculture, Secretary Bonham stated that the epidemic of cholera among hogs had been reported from various parts of the state, and especially in Franklin, Darke, Butler, Preble and Athens counties, where the swine were dying in large numbers.

New Incorporations.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state yesterday as follows: The Jones National Fence company, Columbus, $25,000; Advance Building and Loan company, Cincinnati, $50,000; Indemnity Mutual Fire association, of Cincinnati; South Zanesville Sewer Pipe and Brick company, $25,000.

Killed by a Train.

ALTON, O., Nov. 11.—Frank L. Edwards, aged 22, who lives near this place was killed at an early hour by a Little Miami train, while returning from Columbus. He was asleep in his buggy.

Shot His Son.

NEWARK, O., Nov. 11.—Knox Wright, a well known farmer near Homer, accidently shot his son, aged 10, the whole charge taking effect in his side. Wright was out hunting. The wound is fatal.

Prison Reformer Dead.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—A. G. Byers well known all over the country for his efforts in prison reforms, and secretary of the state board of charities for many years, died Monday night.

Governor Hill Will Not Be There.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Governor Hill, of New York, has written a letter regretting his inability to attend the "Old Roman" banquet.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Five Well Known Citizens of Dodge County, Ga., Under Arrest.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 11.—Col. Ruther A. Hall, a well known attorney; Sheriff Lancaster, of Dodge county; James Moore, John K. Lancaster and Lem Bitch, all substantial citizens of the same county, were arrested and placed in the Bibb county jail Saturday night. John C. Forsythe, agent of Norman W. Dodge, of New York, was assassinated on Oct. 7.

He was under the direction of the United States court enforcing Dodge's claim to timber lands, which are disputed by the natives. All of the above were arrested for violating sections of the United States revised statutes, under which it is charged they are guilty by person or by procurement of the murder of Forsythe. Hall had been prominent as the attorney for the squatters.

Had $35,000 Sewed in Her Dress.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 11.—On Thursday evening an aged woman was run over by an electric car at the corner of Jackson and Fifth streets. Nobody recognized her, and she was taken to the city hospital in an unconscious condition. Her right leg was broken, and she was so badly injured internally that she died Saturday. In preparing the body for burial $35,000 in greenbacks was found sewed into her clothing in various places. The remains were identified by Richard T. O'Connor, clerk of the district court, as those of Mrs. Anna Klotz, of Payne avenue. She was over 80 years of age, and of German descent. As she has no heirs in this country it is not known what will be done with the snug little fortune found stitched in her clothing.

Arrested for Train Wreckers.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 11.—Charles Charters and Robert Ferguson were arrested four miles from Pilot Grove yesterday by Detectives Delong and Dickey, of the Missouri Pacific secret service, on suspicion of having wrecked a Missouri Pacific westbound passenger train at Otterville last Friday morning. The prisoners claim to be painters en route from Albuquerque, N. M., to New York. They will be held here for identification.

THE MARKETS.

Review of the Stock, Money and Cattle Market for Nov. 10.

Wall Street.

There was woe on Wall street Monday. The declines in some stocks since Saturday were the largest ever known over night. Alarming cablegrams from abroad caused the break-up. In some lines there was not a single buying order.

Money was very stringent throughout the morning at 15 per cent.

He Must Hang.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—Three ballots determined the fate of Murderer Ed. McCarthy at the close of the hotly contested trial before Judge Maxwell. The first ballot found ten jurymen ready to convict, while two voted nay. One of the two voted with the majority on the second ballot, and the last soon succumbed to the rendering of a first degree verdict. McCarthy wept when the verdict was read, but soon recovered himself and marched stolidly back to jail. Notice of application was filed for a new trial and the case is to be contested in the supreme court.

Low Mass Instead of a High One.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—A lively scene occurred in St. Peter's Catholic church here Sunday. During the celebration of high mass the pastor, Rev. Father John McMenomy went down the middle aisle demanding payment of pew rent. He talked loudly and severely to several prominent members, and ordered the church choir to stop and the mass changed from a high to a low one. Nearly the entire congregation rose and left the church. It is thought the matter will be carried to the bishop.

Trial Postponed.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 11.—At the request of Assistant Prosecutor Hood Judge Kirkpatrick has postponed the trial of Mrs. Lucy Parsons and the other Anarchists charged with rioting in this city. On application of Mr. Hood the prisoners' bonds were increased to $2,000, and as they were unable to find bail for the necessary amount they were returned to jail. The date of their trial has not yet been sent down.

Social Sensation.

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 11.—Samuel L. Clayton, son of Judge Clayton, of this city, who is on the eve of marriage with Miss Evelyn F. Pardridge, the daughter of a millionaire porkpacker of Chicago, has been sued by Miss Alice Goodly, a South Chester school teacher, for $10,000 for breach of promise. The matter has created a social sensation.

First of the Kind Under the Law.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 11.—William Baldwin was fined $30 to-day in the district court for violation of the Australian ballot law in having an official ballot outside the polling place last Tuesday. He appealed and was held in $1,000 for the superior court. This is the first case of the kind under the law.

An Old Man Murdered.

MERCEDES, Cal., Nov. 11.—John Ivett, 71 years old, one of the oldest residents and wealthiest citizens of this county, was murdered near his home on the Mercedes river last night. His head was beaten to a jelly and the brains were scattered for several feet. There is no clew to the assassin.

A Schooner in Danger.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Nov. 11.—The schooner Jessie is stranded upon the east end of Bois Blanc island. She went ashore Sunday morning in a snow storm. She is supply laden for the Snow islands. She will receive no injury unless heavy winds come up from the east.

Hog Cholera in Iowa.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, Nov. 11.—There is an epidemic of hog cholera in this locality which is taking the animals off by the score. Within the past two weeks M. K. Price & Son have lost $10,000 worth of prize hogs from the disease.

Well Known Horseman Suicides.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—Wesley P. Balch, the well known horseman, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting himself with a revolver in his office in the Commonwealth building. Financial difficulties caused the act.

ALAS!

How wretched is the man who has fallen a victim to Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, or diseased Liver, with all the horrible attendants. Look upon the picture. Poor man, being tired of dragging out a miserable existence, he is the picture of despondency; altogether, he is rather a forlorn specimen. Do we pity him? Of course, but at the same time feel assured that in a measure he is to blame for the bad state into which he has fallen. A sure, safe, speedy and easy cure can be found in Simmons Liver Regulator—Nature's own remedy. No mercury or deleterious drugs, not unpleasant to the taste, and always reliable—just such a remedy as you can pin your faith to without a shadow of disappointment. Read the testimonial, don't take our word for it:

"I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel, which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator which gave me relief, without any interruption to business." J. HUGG, Middleport, Ohio.

TUESDAY, - - NOVEMBER 11.

It is a matter of congratulation to the citizens who are weary of crushed stone that the council has reached the end of its string in that line for the present, having exausted both the existing and anticipated funds for street purposes. Of course the streets must be kept in passable order, but there are a good many citizens who do not think the dumping of stone serves as desirable repairs. There is a wish that we may reach a period of street improvement that improves.

There is no reliability in Col. Bob Ingersoll as a prophet. Ten years ago he predicted that "In ten years from this time there will be two theatres built for one church." Our local experience is a decided contradiction. We can't get one good theatre to three or four good churches. Beyond local lines, Chaplain McCabe has written Ingersoll about the prediction and said: "The time is up, Colonel; the Methodists are building four churches each day—one every six hours. Please give us another prediction for 1900."

Senator Brice is mentioned as a possible bit of democratic timber for the Presidency. It is no joke either. Brice is a bright and popular fellow, and he has millions. It is the boodle that counts. Deplorable as it is, the truth remains just the same. The political student may keep his eye on Brice. He generally gets there, and a million or so would help the campaign fund immensely. In this connection it is not inappropriate to quote the following lines from a recent poem by Mrs Brice:

Ambition rules the passing hour

The Upper Sandusky Union, in its account of the jollification, says:

Patriotic Marion was represented by the noble and grand H. T. VanFleet, and Col. Ned Thatcher, editor of the Mirror.

This is good, but it set us to thinking. In the first place our friend VanFleet has jollified since the day Hare was nominated and we have wondered if there was any soreness in the local democratic camp. One can not always tell.

But the jollification. Patriotic Marion ought to have been more numerously represented. Our good friend Strelitz should have been there; Councilman Saiter should have mingled with the jubilant throng and Col. Eckhart ought not to have been absent. Mr. Young should have joined in the joyous oratory and Mr. Tristram added his voice to the chorus of cheers. And the crowd should have had French Thornhill along, while the eloquent Scofield smiled with Doc Norton on the achievements of the glorious Eighth. There was something lacking from "Patriotic Marion."

Got the Names Mixed.

There must be something in a name, after all. The grand jury reported a number of "true bills" against certain law breakers, and also reported that they could not find sufficient evidence on which to hold a number of alleged law breakers. Among the former was a colored gent named Jackson, against whom an indictment was found for carving a colored brother with a razor, and among the latter was a white man of the same name.

When the sheriff was ordered to produce his prisoners in court yesterday he was handed a list of the names of the men wanted. The first batch brought over were those against whom "no bill" was reported. When the names were called at the jail the white Jackson did not answer to his name, but in his place the colored party stepped up. He of the white face thought it policy to "lay low," so he said nothing.

When the names were called in court and the prisoners were ordered to stand up the colored man answered promptly to the white man's name, and he was duly discharged by Judge Seaver. Mr. Jackson returned to the jail for something, and the jailer, happening to know that Jackson had been indicted, thought there was some mistake and locked him up. He was rearraigned later and pleaded guilty. The white Jackson was finally released.—Buffalo Commercial.

There is no more fruitful source of disease than vitiated blood. It involves every organ and function of the body, and if not immediately corrected by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sooner or later leads to fatal results. Be warned in time.

Catarrh, Hay or Rose Fever.

The cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Darbys Prophylactic Fluid are experienced in the treatment and cure of Catarrh and kindred complaints. The Fluid soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and removes the offensive odor that characterizes the disease. Should the inflammation have reached the throat use the Fluid as a gargle to allay the inflammation and to disinfect.

Mrs. Ketchum's Catch.

A striped bass weighing 24½ pounds is on exhibition in the window of J. R. Fish's market on Second street. It was caught Monday by Mrs. Ketchum, a widow lady 72 years of age, who is a guest at Westport Harbor, and landed with the assistance of her grandson, a boy of 11 years.—Fall River News.

And another, writing from Brittany, says that there the pears are all spoiled, apples are lacking in many localities, and almost all the plums had perished; that peaches are everywhere non existent; that gooseberries and raspberries had been relatively scanty, and that, although strawberries had been quite plentiful, they "had only the flavor of the fruit with the taste of water." Meanwhile the complaints of excessive drought have been coming in from the south, where we are told even in the carefully watered gardens the trees and shrubs had faded and withered. Near the coast the moist sea breezes "assure the abundance of the grape crop," but further north the grape growers are reported to be in despair over the persistent dryness.

Parental Gloom in Our Homes.

Boys and girls are often spoiled by parental gloom. The father never unbends. The mother's rheumatism hurts so she does not see how little Maggie can ever laugh. Child's curiosity is denounced as impertinence. The parlor is a parliament, and everything in everlasting order. Balls and tops in that house are a nuisance, and the pap that the boy is expected most to relish is geometry, a little sweetened with the chalk of blackboards. For cheerful reading the father would recommend "Young's Night Thoughts," and Hervey's "Meditations Among the Tombs."

At the first chance the boy will break loose. With one grand leap he will clear the catechism; he will burst away into all riotous living. He will be so glad to get out of Egypt that he will jump into the Red sea. The hardest colts to catch are those that have a long while been locked up. Restraints are necessary, but there must be some outlet. Too high a dam will overflow all the meadows.—Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

A New Type of Gun.

William T. Chamberlain, of Norwich, has invented and perfected a gun which promises to be the most durable, simple and effectual gun ever made. It is called the electric hydrogen gun. There are three methods of firing the arm. By the first method Mr. Chamberlain claims the projectile is sent from the gun by a pressure equal to 37,000 atmospheres; by the second process by four times that force, and by the third method it is transformed into an air gun with a pressure of from 1,500 to 2,000 pounds. The gun is simple, without other machinery than the chamber and barrel. The demand for new and valuable weapons is so large that some of the great powers may find in this arm the executor they have been anticipating, while Mr. Chamberlain may find in it the fortune the shadow of which has kept his brain active and his hands busy for many a day.—Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

They Are Glad to Know Him Now.

A New Yorker of very limited means recently got a bequest, the news of which was printed in the papers. As soon as the fact became known he got heavy mails that brought him letters from all kinds of charitable societies in need of aid, and from a host of the sufferers by impecuniosity. He also found more callers at his house than there ever before had been knockers at his door, and he likewise enjoyed when in the streets the sight of many more smiling faces than he had previously been acquainted with. Never until this month had he realized the attractive power of the mighty $. He now finds that his deceased bachelor uncle, who left him a bequest, has endowed him with something else not set down in the last will, to wit, cynicism.—New York Sun.

The Parnellite business cost The London Times exactly £180,000. The shareholders of the paper were compelled to forego their dividends for the last year and for the first six months of this year in order to pay it. John Walter owns sixteen shares, and his loss was £18,088, the dividend on each share being £3,000. The circulation of the paper and its receipts for advertisements are constantly increasing.—Chicago Herald.

Sport in California is illustrated by the following from a local paper: "Ben Smith, a farmer of Coos Bay, saw a large buck in his field the other day, and he went after it. By the time Smith reached the brush he found a big panther eating the buck. Smith killed the panther and took the deer to his house."

There was lately landed in San Francisco a freak worth mentioning in the shape of a coal black mare from Australia that is utterly and absolutely without a single hair, having not so much as mane or tail. In all other respects she is a model of the equine race.

At the recent meeting of the American Street Railway association the belief was expressed that it was the last convention at which horse traction would ever receive serious consideration, as electricity in one form or another was bound to replace the horses.

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

POPULAR SCIENTIFIC INFORMATION AND USEFUL KNOWLEDGE

Two Ingenious Contrivances That Illustrate Important Principles—A Miniature Filter and Siphon Combined, and a Tiny Dynamo Machine.

A simple miniature [illegible] illustrating both the purifying power of charcoal and the principle of the siphon can be made by taking a clay pipe of the [illegible] size and filling the bowl with small fragments of freshly burned charcoal, closely packed in the powder of the same substance. A piece of muslin may be tied over the bowl to prevent the charcoal from becoming displaced, and a bit of cotton wool in the bottom of the bowl will prevent the dust from entering the stem of the pipe. Attach a piece of rubber tubing to the pipe, and, having previously filled it with water, place the apparatus in a vessel of water, as shown in the first cut. The rubber tube must be long enough to reach below the bottom of the vessel containing the water.

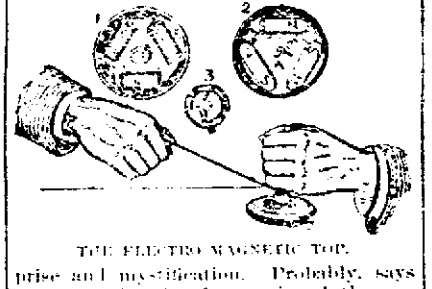
Under these conditions the water will slowly pass through the apparatus, being more or less purified by the charcoal in so doing, and flowing through the rubber tube fall into a vessel placed to receive it. The flow may be conveniently stopped at any time by compressing the tube with a pinch cock, which may be easily made from a stout hairpin bent into the form A, E, C in the cut. One of these filters in constant operation will supply water enough for several persons, but their value is more scientific than practical.

Popular Science News, to which we are indebted for the foregoing description, tells also of an electro magnetic top, an ingenious French toy, which is in effect a miniature dynamo machine. The interior is divided into two parts, only one of which rotates while the top is spinning. In one compartment are placed three small magnets, as shown at 2 in the second cut. In the lower compartment (1) are three little coils of fine wire connected together.

These are connected to a toothed wheel (3), which acts as a circuit breaker. The upper compartment with magnets is shown in 2. In the act of spinning the top the axis is supported by a handle, around which is wound a string, which is pulled by the other hand (see cut). The connections are so arranged that when the top rotates the current of electricity passes through this handle and into the hand of the person spinning the top, giving him quite a perceptible shock, much to his surprise and mystification. Probably, says the authority already mentioned, the current produced by such an apparatus would be sufficiently powerful to admit of other and more surprising manifestations. The accompanying illustrations are reproduced from La Nature.



THE ELECTRO MAGNETIC TOP.

A New Cast Steel Gun.

A new cast steel gun has been invented by Dr. Gatling, for which he claims superiority to the built up gun and half the cost. The patents consist according to Popular Science News in making guns cast from the highest grade of steel to shape around a central core. This central core is utilized for the purpose of cooling the casting from the interior while the exterior is still hot. The cooling process thus begins from the interior and works out, directly the reverse of the ordinary way. The metal is forced, as it were, from the interior outwardly, thereby avoiding the creation of a hard, resisting arch on the exterior of the casting, at which point the full intensity of the high power force exercised by the exploding ingredients within the gun exerts itself. It makes the interior of the gun, where the greatest strain is felt, the toughest and hardest part, and the soft and spongiest part of the exterior, which thus acts somewhat after the manner of a cushion. This is directly the reverse of the old style guns, in which the spongiest part is on the interior. Another important point is the method in which the metal is cast. A revolving motion is given it which makes the grain spiral.

The poppy cushion is one large flower instead of a cluster. The stalk of the flower is utilized to fasten the cushion to the chair. These [illegible] would be regarded as purely ornamental in a room. They look too fragile for use.

Beautifully modeled pansies in velvet are used for handkerchief sachets as well as cushions. Another cushion takes the shape of a cabbage.

Handsome screen panels may be made by using unbleached linen toweling as a foundation, covering it with darned work in gold colored silk closely applied. Upon this background a few blossoms worked in solidly may be scattered over the surface, or a design in outline with a little shading here and there will be found very effective. The design should be traced upon the linen before the background is darned in.

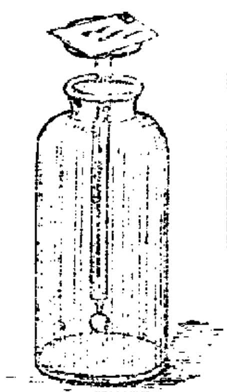
For toilet table slips nothing can improve upon drawn threadwork, and as elaborate stitches are by no means the most effective, some simple pattern nicely worked will give an admirable finish.

The Care of Lamps.

All parts of the burner of a lamp should be thoroughly clean. A little kerosene or alcohol on a cloth is as good for this purpose as anything else to clean the burner, providing it is polished clean and dry afterward. Every part of the outside of a lamp should be rubbed dry and free from oil when it is filled daily. Do not cut the wick of a lamp after it is first put in and has been evenly trimmed once, but each day brush off the charred portion. The wick will last longer and the light be evener and clearer if this last rule is strictly adhered to. Always avoid filling a lamp to the brim or burning it when the oil is nearly exhausted. There is no special economy, says The New York Tribune, which gives the foregoing advice, in turning down a lamp, nearly the same amount of oil is consumed, what is not burned in the blaze passing off in a gas, which is often strongly noticeable on going into a room where the lamp has burned low for some hours. In case only a little light is desired, a night lamp, adapted to a small wick, should always be used.

Balance for Letters, Etc.

A simple way of making a neat little balance for weighing letters and other small articles is shown in the cut. To one end of a round stick of wood is attached sufficient weight to keep it about five inches under water, as shown in the illustration. To the top end a piece of cardboard is fixed, and on this weights of one, two and three ounces are successively placed, the points of submersion in every case being marked on the stick. An admixture of glycerine or spirit prevents the water from becoming foul. A balance is a most convenient article to have on one's writing desk, as many of us have realized when in doubt as to the amount of postage requisite to carry some little package safely to its destination.



IMPROVISED LETTER BALANCE.

Mixed Fats for Frying.

Good Housekeeping tells of an amateur cook who, when about to fry oysters, discovered a dearth of lard and concluded, rather than lose the feast, to try some mixed fat she had on hand, which consisted of odd quantities of beef, mutton, ham fat and lard. To the surprise of the partakers the oysters proved to be unusually good. On the second occasion purchased was used, as heretofore, with the expectation of an improvement in flavor, but, much to the surprise of the cook, the oysters seemed to lack a certain richness they had before and a peculiar, attractive flavor. It was also found that the mixed fats were best when some time had elapsed before using them. Mutton fat, not generally used for frying, cannot be detected, except by experts, if half lard or other fat is mixed with it.

Escalloped Onions.

To prepare escalloped onions stir together one tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of flour, add one cupful of sweet milk and cook in a saucepan, stirring constantly until smooth. Boil the onions till soft, adding a little salt to the water; then fill the baking dish with onions and cracker crumbs, having a layer of the crackers on top. Season with bits of butter and a little pepper, pour the sauce over all and bake until nicely browned.

Squash or Pumpkin Soup.

Squash or pumpkin may be made into a very good soup. Chop about half a small squash or pumpkin into small pieces and stew, season with butter. If the flavor is liked add two or three onions. Stir in half a pint of milk, two teaspoonfuls of sugar and salt to taste. Mix two tablespoonfuls of flour with one quart and a half of milk (half milk and half water may be used instead) and boil all about [illegible] minutes and serve with toasted bread.

The Holy Carpet in Quarantine.

"The holy carpet," which is now being brought back to Cairo, where it will have to submit to the indignity of quarantine for fifteen days, is one of those which are periodically taken to Mecca, there to be sanctified, and is made of a thick sort of silk, embroidered with letters of gold, each letter being two feet in length and two inches broad. It covers what is known as the Beat-Allah or inner sanctuary of the temple.—Paris Galignani.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every impurity from the blood.

Scrofula

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla, a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being [illegible] strong and healthy." B. C. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. —Engineer Pete Phralicks, of the Erie, was looking up old acquaintances here today.

—Rev. Mr. Masters is holding a series of meetings at the Smeltzer school house, south of town.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Criswell, accompanied by their daughter, came over from Mt. Gilead today, to visit their sick son, Will.

—Claud Drake is taking a short layoff from his clerical duties of the Erie, and spending the time slaughtering quails, near Green Camp.

—The meeting of the Gymnasium Club that was to have been held Monday evening did not materialize. There is an apparent lack of enthusiasm in the matter that is to be regretted.

—Mrs. Josie Yager and little daughter, Maggie, start for City Point, Indian River, Fla., tomorrow, to spend the winter. Mrs. Yeager goes for her health and the daughter will attend school.

—A glance at the program of the coming Elk social gives indication that it is going to be an event of unusual pleasure. There is to be music that is of a high order and toasts that are full of brilliance. Judge Norris is to preside.

—Local democrats have been figuring on chartering a parlor car in which to attend the Old Roman banquet at Columbus. It is understood that this luxury will come high, but with those who bet on the election the expense will be no hardship just now.

—Miss Clara Herr, an accomplished artist, is desirous of organizing a class in painting in either or both oil and water color work. Specimens of Miss Herr's painting may be seen at Landon's, on west Center street. Parties desiring to enroll in the class can get terms and other information by inquiring at Landon's.

—John Carder is busy painting the posts on which the mail boxes are attached, a bright green.

—Common pleas court has adjourned until Monday, Nov. 17. Judge Norris left today for Findlay on business.

—Mrs. Young, of Forest, Ohio, is the guest of her husband in this city. Mr. Young contemplates moving his family here in the near future.

—Bee Wagstaff's many friends here will be pleased to hear that he has been tendered a position in the train dispatcher's office of the Erie, at Galion.

—The case of Sarah J. Kerr against Isaac Dickson and others, brought to compel defendant to make the deed of a lot to plaintiff, was tried in common pleas court Monday, but a decision was not rendered.

—The boys at the freight office were surprised this morning to see Uncle Isaac Biglow hurry into the office with a new Overcoat and one of the late styles, with a handsome cape attached. There is nothing too good for the old man from Licking county.

—The engagement of Miss Mame E. Denney and Mr. Harry R. Young is announced. The wedding will take place in December. The betrothal of this popular and prominent couple will be heard with much interest in Marion society, in which both stand high. The charming Miss Denney is a leader in society circles and Mr. Young is a conspicuous figure among the prominent young men of Marion. He is the clerk of courts and a capital good fellow personally. The announcement of the betrothal is an agreeable bit of news.

—Solicitor Scofield called the attention of council Monday evening to the case of Jacob Maag against the village of Marion, which has been assigned by the common pleas court for Thursday, Nov. 20. The case is one that has been staved off by the plaintiff about three years, and is brought to recover $10,000 damages for a broken leg sustained by plaintiff by a fall from an alleged defective sidewalk. The plaintiff offered to settle with council at the time, but the committee appointed to examine the walk decided that it was not in a condition to render the city liable.

—Columbus Dispatch: The Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo railroad is getting out a new map showing the location of the large manufactories along its tracks and the coal fields. It is very suggestive of the possibilities of the Hocking Valley with its immense fields of coal and fire clay.——The Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo earnings for October were $316,052 against $241,945 the same month last year, an increase of $94,756. The gross earning of the road from January 1 to October 31 were $2,455,865, which is $417,000 in excess of earnings for the same period last year.

LOTS OF TALK.

The City Council Indulges in Sidewalk Discussion and Other Minor Subjects.

Leffler, Porch, Roberts, Blake and Issleib made a bare quorum of the city council at its adjoruned session Monday evening. The solicitor, mayor and clerk were also present. Legislation was blocked until Saiter arrived later in the evening, when a few resolutions were adopted.

Issleib again sprung the sidewalk question, which consumed considerable time in discussion. There have been so many flagrant violations of the ordinance that council has begun to recognize the question as a serious one. Leffler called attention to the puposes of the ordinance, stating that it was passed with the expectation of leniency toward people who were unable to construct walks of stone until provision could be made by a special act of the legislature to assess the costs of construction, thus avoiding a hardship. But poor people had constructed walks of stone, while eminently able citizens had wholly disregarded the ordinance and done as they pleased, and even the honorable chairman of the street and alley committee had done the same thing. A special instance was that of George Schweinfurth, who had stone on the ground to build a walk to the south of Music Hall. He had suspended construction and repaired his walk, because his neighbors had not been compelled to construct of stone. No action was taken, however, and the matter was deferred to the next meeting, with the impression that a few examples toward enforcing the ordinance would have a wholesome effect.

In the line of sidewalks Col. Jim Vaughan called attention to the necessity of a sidewalk on the east side of north West street. The walk had been ordered by the old council, and on motion of Leffler an investigation of the matter was ordered made.

The committee on accounts reported a few bills—there are bills at every session—which were ordered paid without objection.

Ernst Zachman, sealer of weights and measures, was again present at council to ask for his apparatus. Ernst came up full of the law and his request was in the nature of a demand. He said he "was elected by 88 more votes than he needed; that he pay his taxes just so like any odder man or millionaire" and when he was elected he wanted the instruments wherewith to prosecute his duties in the interests of poor people.

The petition of W. F. Bull and others for a sidewalk on High street was referred to the street and alley committee and reported upon favorably, and a resolution adopted authorizing the construction of same.

A resolution was also passed for the improvement of Gurley avenue.

Also a resolution was passed instructing the mayor and clerk to notify builders of fire alarm systems that the city council would examine plans and invited a practical demonstration of systems on or before December 1st, of this year.

Adjourned until Tuesday evening, Nov. 18.

A WARNING.

The item in Monday evening's STAR in regard to a local doctor must have reference to J. C. Modrack, who is a veritable "wolf in sheep's clothing," a disgrace to his profession. His just deserts would place him behind the bars.

He brings ruin and desolation to the homes of those who employ him and place confidence in him as a physician and friend.

Let those who are interested be guided by one who has suffered.

AN UNKNOWN SHOPLIFTER

A dirty, mean, insignificant theft was committed Monday evening in front of Stull Bros.' grocery on south Main street. The perpetrator was a dudishly dressed individual whose name has has not been learned. The fellow was walking by the store about 8 o'clock, and deliberately picked up a basket of grapes and slipped them under a large cape overcoat which he wore. Dr. Wiant was passing and saw the theft and informed the proprietors of the store. Ed Huggins, clerk, started after his dudlets and overtook him around the corner of Whittlinger's saloon on South street, where he and another young fellow were trying to open the basket. Huggins remarked that they were excellent grapes, but he thought he would take them back. The fellow said he did not intend to keep them and gave them up without any argument. An effort has been made to find out his name and have him arrested. His partner is known. The two young chappies joined a couple girls later in the evening, but the one who stole the grapes skipped out before the policeman apprehended him.

Since the above was written Percy Starr, of Delaware, at present clerk at the local yards of the C. H. V. and T., was arrested and taken before Mayor Dudley. He plead not guilty at first, but afterwards changed his plea and was fined $5, which he paid and was dismissed.

None Funnier.

[Cleveland Leader.]

If there is any farce-comedy funnier than Hilarity is, it hasn't been seen in Cleveland for a good many seasons. The big audience at the Star hadn't got comfortably seated Monday night before they began to laugh, and they didn't stop until they reached home. Even everybody in the crowded theatre cars was in a strangely humorous mood and didn't mind being jammed up. As the crowd was journeying out through the lobby, one finely dressed lady was heard to say to her escort: "Please take my arm. I have laughed until I can hardly walk." A play that can so effectually drive away all care, is a kind people like for a change. Every movement of Charley Loder provokes a laugh, and he has heavy support in the jolly Irishman and the McIntyres. Of the company, the men are all clever, and the women pretty and attractive. Though the play has been seen here so often, it is unrecognizable in any parts for the bright and new things introduced.

Will Not Show Here Again.

Signor Milo and his college of educated and accomplished canines, together with a number of ancient specialty artists, met with poor business at Music Hall Monday evening. Misfortunes never come singly, and with Kelly's Expectations Saturday evening, the Music Hall patrons had apparently anticipated a bad show Monday evening. The performance was ancient, very ancient, so far as the specialties went, and even the dogs offered no redemption. The stage helpers had more fun than anybody and guyed the show unmercifully, at one time ringing down the curtain on the chestnuts. Although the show was billed for tonight it has pulled up stakes and left the town.

Should Go Elsewhere to Learn.

This is from the Delaware Gazette: "He knew no better. He was from Marion. A young man hailing from the classic (?) precincts of the mud bedaubed village of Marion, who probably never had been in an Opera House before, made himself obnoxious during the intermission between the fourth and fifth acts, last evening by clinking two silver dollars in his hands, completely spoiling the effects of the music. His actions brought down upon his luckless head a round of deserved hisses from the audience.

Playing with a Snake.

At Somerville, N. J., the other day, the 2-year-old baby of William Porter was found seated on the kitchen floor playing with a flat headed adder three feet long. The infant laughed and crowed gleefully as the serpent coiled its sinuous length around its throat and arms. The mother of the babe screamed and fainted at the sight, but a neighbor ran in and enticed the snake away with a bowl of warm milk. The little one had been stroking the serpent's body, and the snake had apparently enjoyed the sensation, as it made no demonstration of anger.—New York Times.

They Built a Fire on a Bombshell.

In the whole chapter of accidents there are not many more wonderful things than what is just reported from Tunis. A number of Sfax fishermen were sitting the other day round a fire which they had kindled on the shore, when suddenly there was a terrible explosion from the heart of the burning mass, one person being killed and several seriously wounded. It was subsequently found to be the explosion of a shell which had lain under the sand since the French bombardment in 1881.—London Tit-Bits.

Parlotta a Philosopher.

[Delaware Gazette.]

Jackamo Parlotta was yesterday taken to the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus. He appeared to take his sentence as a matter of course and smiled audibly several times. On being questioned as to what he thought of the matter he replied: "Sixa year notta longa time. Me smila if dey givva me 10 year. Me laugha if dey givva me 15 year and notta breaka down if dey givva me 20 year." He has evidently made up his mind to accept his fate whatever that may be.

Something New.

The young gentlemen of the Young People's Society will give an avoirdupois supper at the City Hall Tuesday evening, Nov. 18th. Oysters in almost every variety will be served. Admission 25c.

HERE'S YOUR WINTER WEATHER

Attention is called to the following weather probabilities, for the ensuing winter months, issued by Prof. Geo. H Twiss, one of the directors of the Ohio Meteorological Bureau.

"The track of the West India cyclone of 1890, just received from the signal office at Washington, gives us indications of a winter with extremes of low temperature only paralleled in the history of the signal service observation in the winter of 1884, and a previous winter of 1873. It is not pleasant to take all the risks of possible misleading predictions of extreme weather, but the curving of September storms have given the key to the character of the coming winter so accurately for a period of the fifteen winters for which we have given the indications to the press, that we hope, if not verified this year, the indulgence of percentage of verifications will be accorded to long, as they are to short, range predictions.

November—The temperature of the first part of the month will be below the normal, the lowest fall of temperature being near the middle of the month. In the Northwest continued cold weather, in the Northeast temperature above the normal, in Ohio heavy rainfalls, with occasional snowfall in the northern part of the state.

December—Mild the early part of the month, with a sharp fall of temperature between the 15 and 25th, dropping to zero and perhaps below at points in the state, for the holidays the themometer will rest between freezing and zero. The outlook of sleighing during the holidays in the central and northern part of this state is favorable.

January—A very cold month, with heavy snows, severe cold dips between the 1st and 10th and the 20th and 30th, with mercury falling to 20 degrees below zero and perhaps even lower in some localities in either or both of these dips.

February—Will be much colder than last year, but not of the marked severity of January. Should the weather indications for January be verified and the conditions of 1884 be repeated, floods must be apprehended and all possible precautions be taken to avoid suffering from the results. For details of the coming winter and spring, a study of the winter of 1883 and 1884 will be usefull. There will be found to be a noticeable similarity.

Expect Favorable Results

[Bucyrus Forum.]

The men who have been engaged in drilling gas wells at Martel have so excited the people of that little place that they confidently expect gushers of the greatest capacity. Salt water was struck at a depth of 1540 feet and the operations have been temporarily delayed by the necessity of putting in casing to cut off the flow. The drillers claim that the rock strata have a remarkable similarity to the Pennsylvania gas field formation and claim to have other evidence that the results of the experiment will be favorable.

OBITUARY

GARVIN—Henry Garvin was born in Green Castle, Franklin county, Penn., July 18th, 1827, and died at Claridon, Marion county, Ohio, Nov. 7, 1890, aged 63 years, 9 months and 19 days.

Mr. Garvin had been a citizen of Claridon about 18 years. He was a man of cultivated taste and intelligence, respected by his fellow citizens as an industrious and reliable man.

He was married to Rebecca J. Staley August 21, 1849. They were blessed with eight children, four of whom are left with the mother to mourn their dead.

Mr. Garvin was a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church, having united with it at Claridon August 16, 1874. In his long sickness he was supported by divine grace and murmured not at the dealings of the Almighty.

His funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from the M. E. church, conducted by his pastor, T. Struggles, attended by friends from abroad and at home. The remains were laid to rest in Claridon cemetery.
